

October 19, 2009

Dear Parent,

The class will be taking some standardized tests this week that are similar to the testing that was done last month. The purpose of these tests is to gather information on test items that are being considered for the next edition of the Cognitive Abilities Test. We will not receive results from this testing.

Today, the class started studying the Fruits of the Holy Spirit. The students have chosen a fruit and need to look through magazines at home to find examples of one of the fruits. The pictures are due on Wednesday.

If you have not already turned in your pumpkin order or permission slip for Jump Rope for Heart, please do so.

Please check the Monday Folder carefully. Recently, there seems to be a lot of missing work. Below is a check off list of all the items that should be in the folder. If your child was absent, the work may not be included. It will come home in next week's folder.

Last week, there were some questions about work in the Monday Folder. The hundreds chart worksheet is an activity that we play once in awhile. The students are given clues such as "10 more than 35." They are to shade that box in, creating a symbol, number or a picture. Last week's picture should have been a boat, in honor of Columbus Day.

Important Dates

Wednesday, October 21- Social Studies Quiz- Unit 2 Lesson 1
Friday, October 23- Harvest Festival- Fall Free Dress

Inside the Monday Folder

Listed below is the work that should be in the Monday Folder from Mrs. Langridge, Miss Costa, and any specialized teacher. Any work that is not in the folder is missing.

- Spelling- pretest corrections, test
- English- p. 21-22, 23-24
- Math- p. 39-40, 45-46, 47-48, 49-50, p. 59
- Reading- synonym wksh., test-Please sign and return
- Handwriting- p. 41-42, 43-44

Thank you for all your cooperation,
Mrs. Langridge

