Dear Parents,

The students have been working hard on a story for a PBS KIDS contest. The stories have been typed and I am sending them home to be edited one final time. They will be formatted tomorrow so I am asking the students to mark where they want to put a picture. This way, I can format them quickly and get them back to the students so they can illustrate them. Please note that I put the word count on the bottom of the paper. The story needs to be between 100-350 words.

I put a permission slip in the Monday to allow your child to participate in this contest. I am mailing the stories this Friday. Any story that does not have a signed permission slip will not be sent in. I put stars next to the information that you need to fill out. Please do not fill in the title and word count.

This week, the class started "Talking About Touching." There are a series of 13 lessons covering all types of safety including Walking, Biking, and Personal Safety.
